INTRO

- ◉ Now that you are all set up, you will want to upload some photos.
- ◉ There are a few different ways to get to the upload page.

1ST WAY TO GET TO THE UPLOAD PAGE

- From the Flickr homepage - if you are uploading photos for the first time, there should be a link called 'Upload your first photos' on the left hand side of your homepage, in a blue box. There is also a link called 'Upload Photos & Videos' on the right hand side of your homepage.

Here's how to get started:

- 1 Personalize your profile ✓
- 2 Upload your first photos ✓
- 3 Find your friends on Flickr
